RE: Inculcating a Learning Organization

Dear [name of client],

We have done a lot of work with many progressive companies to help them inculcate a learning culture throughout their organization.

Hi, I am [xxx], of MWS Malaysia. MiniWorkshopSeries™ offers a new approach and fresh perspective to corporate employee training.

If you are already tired of having to continuously seek for a training provider for your every need, then its time to try out a different approach.

You will not only stand to save 80% of your training investment, but you will have a structured and actionable approach that mobilizes your talents to greater heights.

[Name of client], allow me to share with you how MWS can add value to your company's training plan. Could we meet [Date], at [time] in your office for a 20 minute presentation?

Thank you.

Warm regards
